

The Workings of The Bridgewater Hall organ

The front pipes forming the façade of the instrument consist of the 32', 16' and 8' principals of the pedal, great and positiv divisions, together with the solo trompetes which project 'en chamade'.